

OCEANS DEEP (ALL YOUR WAVES)

BPM: 82 | TIME: 4/4

words and music by Andrew C. Romanowitz (Andrew Micah)

INTRO

| 1 | 1 | 6m | 4 5 |

VERSE ONE

1                      4                      1
The lights in hea-ven hid their fa-ces
6m                      4                      1
And terror turned upon the Son
6m7                      4sus2                      1
When it pleased my God to crush Him
                                 4                      5                      1
With the weight of what I'd done

VERSE TWO

(1)                      4                      1
Of His grief and of His trou-ble
6m                      4                      1
All the a-ges had their fill
6m7                      4sus2                      1
And in a mo - ment my re-demp-tion
                                 4                      5                      1
It was won by His good will

CHORUS

                                 4                      5
How deep, how wide
                                 1                      4
How strong beyond all know-ing
Is the heart of Je-sus
                                 4                      5
How deep, how wide
                                 6m                      5                      4
How strong be-yond all know-ing
                                 5                      1
Is the heart of God

VERSE THREE

(1)                      4                      1
How could all His thoughts be toward me
6m                      4                      1
When I turn from His good way
6m7                      4sus2                      1
But by His blood this law is writ-ten
                                 4                      5                      1
That grace a-lone comes af-ter me

BRIDGE

                                 4                      1
Oceans deep, waters wide,
                                 6m                      4
Breakers fall on every side
                                 6m7
You have thrown me in
                                 5sus4                      4
The sea of Your great love
                                 1                      4
Winds rise up, thunders roar
                                 6m                      4
All Your waves are so much more
                                 6m7
I am shel-tered in
                                 5sus4                      4
The storm of Your great love

VERSE FOUR

1                      4                      1
In the heart of God my Fa-ther
6m                      4                      1
Are there e-verlasting scars
6m7                      4sus2                      1
For the Son that was for-sa-ken
                                 4                      5                      1
All to bring us to His arms
